The League of Women Voters of Connecticut Education Fund presents

Back in Business:

Workforce Development for Connecticut's Economic Future

How will Connecticut spur job growth? How can Connecticut develop a competitive workforce and reinvent itself for a 21st century economy?

Find out the answers to these questions and more at an engaging discussion with:

Catherine Smith, Connecticut's Commissioner of Community and Economic Development;

Christopher Bruhl, President, Business Council of Fairfield County;

Joseph Carbone, President and CEO of The WorkPlace;

State Senator Martin Looney, Majority Leader and co-chair of the Job Growth Roundtable; and Michael Meotti, Executive VP for the Board of Regents for Higher Education.

Kay Maxwell, former president of the League of Women Voters of the United States, will moderate.
